

A message to all parents:

It's okay.

Remember to breathe.

Let go of the guilt.

You're doing a great job!

Dear Parents / Carers,

4 weeks of home schooling complete - AMAZING and WELL DONE!

I know Boris's announcement this week was not what you all wanted to hear and yet you are doing a fantastic job at home schooling. We continue to be so thankful for your support and commitment.

Please try and keep to a normal bedtime / morning routine as this will help you and your child. If you allow your child to stay up late then they will get up late and if they get up late then they won't sleep etc etc. I have even heard that one of our children gets up every morning and gets dressed in his school uniform so that he knows it's time for home schooling! Routine is really important for everyone.

Remote Learning Guides

We have produced lots of videos and leaflets to continue to help you with your child's remote home learning.

Please take a look at the home page of the school website

Teaching Videos

We are teaching your child every day using pre-recorded teaching videos, which you can find on You Tube or on our website.

We are using pre-recorded videos instead of 'live' videos so that you can watch them at a time to suit your family circumstances. We know that some of our families are sharing devices and so it was important to us that we built in flexibility to our home learning and teaching as not everyone can be 'live' at the same time. We also wanted you to be able to watch and re-watch the videos, whenever you needed to.

National Storytelling Week

Next week we will be celebrating 'National Storytelling Week' and every day there will be a story on Facebook / You tube for your child to listen to. Maybe, you could let your child listen to it at bedtime.

To you,
the soul reading this.
I know you're tired.
You're fed up.
You're close to breaking down.
But there's strength within you ...even when you feel weak.
